“ Submission deadline

10 March 2025 ”

Dear colleagues,

The Editorial Office of the Earth Systems and Environment (Springer) organizes the 1st ESEV Annual Meeting (ESEV-2025) at the Congress Center of the Istanbul Technical University (Türkiye). The conference attendees will have the opportunity to hear many presentations from specialists on new indicators and directions in research, development, and innovation in the multidisciplinary fields of the Earth systems and environmental sciences.

The proceedings will be published in the Springer ASTI Book Series (indexed in Scopus and SCImago) and extended papers will be published in a Special Issue of ESEV (Springer). Visit our website (www.2025.esev-meeting.org) to learn more about the event.

On this occasion, we are pleased to invite you to take part in the conference (in-person or virtually) and share/discuss your latest research findings.

ESEV-25 Keypoints:

- The ESEV Annual Meeting (ESEV-25) aims to bring together and discuss the most recent high-quality studies on cutting-edge developments in the various research fields of Earth systems and environment based on new methods, theories, and applications.
- The ESEV-25 will take place on 28–30 April 2025 in Istanbul, Türkiye.
- The main objectives of ESEV-25 are to promote the exchange of scientific knowledge and to foster collaboration among communities working on research topics that incorporate diverse aspects of the Earth systems and environment.
- The conference is committed to contributing positively and constructively to the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development by publishing cutting-edge research studies focused on addressing environmental issues that hinder sustainable development in its proceedings and special issues. ESEV-25 supports the Sustainable Development Goals by promoting intensive research on these global goals and attempting to address some of society's most pressing concerns and greatest grand challenges.
- The ESEV-25 encourages submissions of research works from all regions of the world. It will go ahead in person but there will be a possibility to present online. It will feature talks and panels on new indicators and directions in research, development, and innovation in the multidisciplinary fields of the Earth systems and environmental sciences.
